

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

MONDAY, APRIL 24, 1871.

The Washington Patriot brings to mind the circumstance, that one of the ablest and most decorous statesmen of our past, a religious, moral man, whose tongue was never polluted by ribaldry, and whose arm, therefore, was never raised to maintain what his tongue uttered, voted against the anti-duelling law of 1839, giving as his reason that if personal responsibility were thus formally abrogated, Congress would be the theatre for the unchecked ruffianism of the tongue. We are not the advocates of duelling—but has not what was thus predicted, come to pass?

It appears by the telegraphic dispatches that McMahon's army presses successfully on with the assault on Paris, and each succeeding day brings nearer the collapse of the Communist rebellion. On Saturday they were within a hundred yards of the city ramparts in some places; the batteries on both sides were in active operation, and at intervals musketry firing was heard. A Republican Committee in Paris has resolved to make another effort at conciliation, and the municipality of Havre has elected three persons to endeavor to make peace.

A special session of the Dakota Legislature was convened on Tuesday last, Governor Burbank having received a telegram from Secretary Fish that the Attorney General considered a special session "authorized." The session was, however, brought to a speedy close on receipt of a correct copy of the telegram, which read "unauthorized." The error is chargeable upon some operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company between Chicago and Sioux City.

The Chicago Post gives the following information: "Those who have worn their hats five years will be pleased to see that they are just in fashion again; and those who have pantaloons they bought in 1848 will be glad to know that they (the pantaloons) will also be, with their elastic footings, the pride of the man of fashion this season, even as they were his pride twenty-three years ago."

The Fish Commissioners recently appointed, under an act of the Virginia Legislature, have just completed a visit to several gentlemen at the North, most prominently engaged in the culture of fish, and will make a report to the next General Assembly urging liberal appropriations for stocking all our streams with fish, and suggesting the best means for the accomplishment of that end.

The New York Commissioners of Charities and Correction are trying, on a large scale, an experiment for the reformation of vagrant youth, and bringing them up to be seamen. This is a matter which should excite attention—for the increase of "loafing" is perceptible every where, and occupation "at sea" is desirable, if it cannot be had by land.

Eight pages of the April number of the Petroleum Monthly are filled with reports from different professional sources of the curious asphalt or asphaltic vertical vein of solid petroleum in Ritchie county, West Virginia, eight miles from Cairo station, on the Northwest Virginia railroad, thirty-one miles east of Parkersburg.

Earl de Gray entertained at Washington on Saturday evening a large number of distinguished persons, and this being in some sense a farewell gathering, it is accepted as an indication that the labors of the Joint High Commission will soon be brought to a satisfactory close.

The almost universal report from these portions of the West where winter wheat is grown, is that the crop will be large, and that it will come into market early. From the whole South a similar report is made.

An order issued from the War Department discontinues Carlisle Barracks, Penn., as a recruiting depot for the army. The officers on duty there have been transferred to the St. Louis arsenal.

A large number of persons have been discharged from employment in the engraving and note printing department attached to the Treasury Department, their services not now being needed.

Three thousand men are now employed on the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad, the track of which is being laid at the rate of one mile per day.

President Grant has been received with respect at different places on his route to St. Louis—and turns over the "speaking" part, in reply to congratulations, to Senator Morton.

The Address of the Democratic Members of Congress is received with entire approbation by the Democrats and Conservatives throughout the country.

PERIODICALS.—Leonard Scott & Co., New York, have republished the April number of Blackwood's Magazine. Contents: Fair to See; New Books; Scotch Agricultural Laborers; End of the War; Bullion; the Descent of Man; How can we trust them?

We have received Wood's Household Magazine for May; the Little Corporal; Catalogue of the Woman's Medical College of Pa.; Rowell's Newspaper Reporter; the Children's Friend; and the Friendly Visitor.

The May number of that excellent Knights of Pythias Magazine—The True Knight—is received. Its table of contents this month embraces two or three fine stories; an attractive article "A Woman's Views of Secret Societies;" news of the Order from all parts of the world; and a great variety of other interesting reading matter. Published at Richmond.

The Richmond Enquirer referring to the course that the colored population in the cities of Virginia, under the guidance of their political leaders, have invariably pursued at all elections, says:—"For five years every effort has been made to show the colored population that their rights were not in peril in our hands. We gave them employment, and in return got only proscription. Every one of them voted two years ago to disfranchise us, and would do it to-day if the opportunity offered."

The Richmond Enquirer thinks that the Governor is to prescribe the uniform for the volunteer companies of the State.

Great regret is expressed every where at the destruction of the Arch of Triumph in Paris. What has not Paris suffered?

The steamships for Europe are carrying over a large number of passengers, who go to make the "tour" and see the "sights."

A tobacco factory in St. Louis was destroyed by fire on Saturday night, and the loss in buildings and tobacco estimated at $100,000.

The yellow fever is prevailing at Buenos Ayres.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

On Wednesday afternoon a colored man and his wife residing on a piece of land adjoining Judge Burnham's farm, on the York River road, three miles below Richmond, before going to their afternoon work in the field, locked up in their cabin their three children, all small, the youngest an infant. Some time afterwards the woods near by took fire, the flames speedily communicating to the fences and finally to the cabin. Before aid could reach the little sufferers they were all burned to death.

The Rockingham Register says:—John D. Pennybacker, Esq., has gone into the culture of fine onions extensively on his farm near Linville's creek. He expects to raise 500 bushels this year off of one acre, which will pay better than wheat.

The Piedmont Virginian says:—We have no recollection of ever before seeing the fruit, May cherries particularly, so far advanced as they are at this time. From present appearances, we will have them to perfection the middle or latter of May.

The employees of the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Ohio railroad, upon the entire route from Norfolk to Bristol, are now being paid for three months services ending April 31. This payment will amount to nearly $150,000.

The rains on Friday caused the James river to rise some seven or eight feet above its usual level at Lynchburg on Saturday morning, but at dark last night the water had fallen several feet.

The remains of Mr. Wm. H. Tayloe, of Mt. Airy, who died at the residence of his daughter, in Georgetown, D. C., last week, were brought to Mt. Airy, in Richmond county, for interment.

A man in Isle of Wight county has been arrested, on the charge of whipping his own child so severely as to cause its death. The father denies the accusation.

John Smith, who has been on trial for several days at Richmond, Va., for the murder of John Christie, was acquitted and discharged on Saturday last.

Mr. Jno. G. Meen has so far improved that he expects to leave Lynchburg for his Mount Airy home to-day.

Last week green peas sold in Norfolk, Va., at one dollar per peck, and strawberries at the same price per quart.

An excursion party of editors from the State of New York will shortly visit Richmond.

RAILROADS.—A writer in the Washington Capital, giving a sketch of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad says:

"The Baltimore and Potomac road is so only in name; it is really the southern extension of the Pennsylvania railroad, which quits Harrisburg, the capital of Pennsylvania, and descends, by a line generally southward, to the city of Baltimore. It then crosses that city by a series of tunnels, bridges, and cuts, to the westward, and by a route about thirty-eight miles in length, runs south and south-westward to Washington city, where it crosses the Eastern Branch upon a bridge eleven hundred feet in length, and passes through a tunnel, in the region of the Washington navy yard, sixteen hundred feet long, and then passes up Virginia avenue and Sixth street, where it is to be the Washington railroad station; the railway then passes out to the Long Bridge, where several hundred men are now at work putting down stone piers of a durable description,—and going due southward to Alexandria the road passes three or four miles out on the track of the Orange and Alexandria road, and then goes south-westward, crossing the Occoquan river by a superb pier bridge, passing south of Brentsville, or between that old court house town and Dumfries, and so continuing on to Fredericksburg."

On the opposite side of the river "the same road passes through a very noble region, touching the hamlet of Collington, about fifteen miles from Annapolis, and descending the Collington branch of the Patuxent river on the right side to Upper Marlboro, where there is a station.—South of Marlboro the road descends into a wonderful marsh region in the neighborhood of Charles branch. The road thence runs between the hamlets of Brandywine and Tee-Bee, passes near Beantown, and keeps on the right side of the Tobacco river until it reaches the Potomac, nearly opposite Matthias Point. Here there is to be a ferry and another road on the south side of the Potomac, in Virginia, which will run down to the Pamunkey river, and be the cheap line between the North and the South. While the main fast line will pass through Washington, cross the Long Bridge and descend to Fredericksburg and Richmond, the cheap line will pass King George Court House, Port Royal, and Bowling Green."

THE GREEK NEPTUNES.—The absorbing topic among the elite of New York, was the marriage recently of Mr. Cleon Rizo-Rangabe, the Greek Charge d'Affaires at Washington, with Miss Dorothea Von Gerolt, the lovely daughter of the Imperial German Minister to the United States.

The nuptial rite of the Greek Church was performed. The wedding rings were taken, blessed and replaced upon the fingers of the bride and groom. Lights in golden candelabras were next placed in the hands of the happy pair, when they were signed with the cross by the priest. Wine in golden cups was afterwards offered to each, bride and groom, three times successively, after which another blessing was given by the priest, when, taking from the hands of the Russian Minister and the Greek Consul a crown and a coronet beaming with rare gems, the bride and groom were crowned, the crowns being afterwards removed and offered to each, kiss after which they were pronounced man and wife, and blessed in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost. The ceremony was concluded by the bride and groom saluting the priest, which act was speedily followed by the benediction. The ceremony occupied about three quarters of an hour.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

Yesterday morning a fire broke out in a carpenter shop in Farmington, about sixty-five miles from Wheeling, on the B. and O. Railroad, destroying fifteen dwellings, the station house, pump house, a warehouse, and merchandise worth $50,000, the ticket and express offices and their contents. The fire was caused by some drunken men playing cards in the carpenter shop, and dropping a candle among the shavings. The town is half destroyed.

A meeting of operators of the collieries in the Schuylkill region was held at Philadelphia on Saturday and an address to the miners adopted, appealing to them to resume work without regard to the Union, and offering to compromise on a basis of wages for the remainder of the year. Other points of difference they agree to submit for arbitration to Judge Elwell as umpire.

According to the Blair Register tree planting in Nebraska is prosecuted at a lively rate. One day 16,000 young trees passed through that town to farmers farther West. A company of Swedes had contracted for 12,000 cotton woods to set out on their farms. This tree planting is a now a regular routine of agricultural settlement.

At Newark, N. J., yesterday, a fire destroyed the malt-house of Ballentine's Brewery, at the foot of Rector street. Loss $60,000; insured. The foreman of the malt-house named McCormick, perished in the flames. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

Three members of the Brothers of St. John, a religious Order attached to the Church of England, have arrived in Baltimore, and yesterday held service in several of the Episcopal churches. During the next eight days they will officiate at St. Luke's, St. Paul's and Mount Calvary Churches.

The experiment of colored police is about to be tried in Cincinnati by Mayor Davis, recently elected on the Republican ticket. It will be done at the request of the colored people, and the officers first appointed will be assigned to duty in the station houses.

Recently a number of Coolie laborers employed on plantations in Louisiana struck on account of non-fulfillment of the contracts made with them, and up to last week had persistently refused to again go to work.

Under date of Jefferson, Ohio, April 12, Mr. Wade wrote a letter to the Geneva (Ohio) Times, in which he says he is not a candidate for Governor, and that he could not accept the office if it was tendered him.

Chief State Engineer in Louisiana reports that the Bonnet Carré levee is now 600 feet wide and 12 to 15 feet deep. It will be almost impossible to close it until the river falls several feet. It has fallen 10 inches.

One who knows defines champagne as follows: "Champagne is a sparkling wine made of crab cider and marble dust with a dash of sulphuric acid to make it boil."

Letters from Rome describe the great activity displayed in hurrying forward the preparations for the transfer of the capital of Italy to that city.

Four fishing schooners belonging to Gloucester were probably lost, with all hands, in the severe gale of the 24, on the Banks.

The Catholic Bishop of Havana is now in New York, Valmaseda having refused to allow him to land on his arrival from Spain.

The importations at New York since the beginning of the year are largely in excess of those of the corresponding period last year.

The Postmaster General has leased a cottage at Newport for the ensuing season, and will take possession in July.

M. Treillard, the French Minister at Washington, has entirely recovered from his recent illness, (which was reported to be insanity.) Senators Wilson and Stewart are going to Europe this summer.

SOUTHERN LOYAL CLAIMANTS FROM VIRGINIA.—The Southern Claims Commission does not lack for business. We publish a further list of persons who have filed claims for damages during the war:—

Wm. T. Ramsey, George W. Roberts, Wm. Sagar, and Jacob Brooks, Fairfax Co. H.; Joel N. Wheeler, A. J. Warwick, Charles C. Duke, and Thomas Garland, Charlotteville; Wm. Denmore, Henson Yarriss, Garrisonville; Samuel Birch, Robert S. Lay, M. A. Hays, Anna M. Hays, Mary A. Hays, Alonzo G. Hays, and William R. Birch, Alexandria county; W. E. Crawford, Amherst county; Virginia Scott, Bush Hill; Samuel C. Hull, Frederick county; Samuel Moreland, Duffield's Depot; Henry M. Bruden, Norfolk; Ann Eliza Hodges, Portsmouth; Mrs. Caroline Heister, Cedar Grove; David Fultz, Staunton city; Margaret Harkader, Wytheville; James E. Murray, William Henry Taylor, and Reuben Ives, Falls Church.

A FAITHFUL HUSBAND AND FATHER.—About a year since the wife and three children of Elijah Munsell, of the western part of Monson, Maine, died of small-pox and were buried in a pasture near his house. Mr. Munsell himself had the disease, but recovered, and has since lived alone in the home where his family died.

He could not bear the idea of having his loved ones buried in a pasture, and finding it impossible to obtain any one to assist in removing them to the common burial ground, he undertook the task alone. On one of the moonlight nights of the past winter, he opened the graves of his family, and by means of ropes and levers raised the four coffins and loaded them into a wagon.

He carried them to the burying ground, where he had previously dug graves for their reception, and buried them. This sad and lonely act occupied nearly all night. Few men would have had the courage to perform such an act, but the husband and father who had tended his family in their sickness, and had dressed them all for the grave, shrink not in the performance of this last token of affection.

PYTHIAN APRONS.—A telegram was received yesterday from a Richmond delegate to the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, which has been in session last week at Philadelphia, to the effect that that body has abolished the apron as a part of the regalia of the Order. It is estimated that the brethren in Richmond have bought in the neighborhood of $4,000 (?) worth of aprons, and will consequently sink that amount by this change. Fortunate is the brother who has not yet bought one.

FACQUER COUNTY.—The meat house of Mrs. Marks, near Catlett's Station, with her own meat and some belonging to three of her neighbors, was accidentally destroyed by fire last Monday night. Her dwelling was saved with much difficulty.

A dwelling house, near the Plains, on the farm of Drayton S. Meade and occupied by his nephew, was burned last Sunday morning. Very little furniture was saved. The fire is believed to have been accidental.

Charles H. Tavenner has sold his farm lying on the Springs turnpike to J. D. Bethune for $16,000. This is an advance on Tavenner's purchase from Keith, but not quite sufficient to cover the cost of the improvements which he has put on the place.

J. Cash Cologne has sold a house and lot, on South 4th St. Warrenton, to John Ross, for $950.

Messrs. Wm. H. Gaines and John R. Tongue, proprietors of what is known as the Water's tavern, left fronting the court-house, bought at private sale on Wednesday the vacant adjoining lot lying on Jail street between the shops of Messrs. Holman and Finks, from T. N. Latham, for $800.

There has been a revival of religion at Thub Church near Orleans in this County, under the preaching of Doctors Locke and Clarke, Elders of the denomination of Christians known as Old School Baptists. Thirty-one converts have been baptised by them and added to the Church.—Warrenton Index.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Odd Fellows here are making extensive preparations for celebrating the fifty second anniversary of Odd Fellowship in the United States on the 26th instant, as a day of thanksgiving.

On Saturday afternoon a portion of the bank of the tunnel of the Baltimore and Potomac railroad at the junction of Seventh street and Virginia avenue caved in upon three colored laborers, named John Boone, Johnson Irwin and James Young, resulting in the instant killing of Boone and the serious injury of Irwin.

Mrs. Ann Bohlayer, widow of the late John Bohlayer, died on Friday, at her residence, in the Sixth Ward, in her seventy-ninth year. Mrs. Eliza R. McKee, wife of Col. Reddick McKee, died in this city, on Saturday, of congestion of the brain, in her sixty-ninth year, and was buried from the residence of her nephew, Judge Wylie.

Mr. Randall Pegg, an old, well-known and eccentric citizen of the Sixth Ward, died on Saturday afternoon.

Col. Ayer L. Waller, died on Saturday evening. He commanded the 78th Ohio Infantry during the late war, and on being mustered out was appointed officer of the Criminal Court of the District.

INDIAN RELICS.—The Bristol News says Mr. John Oyler has recently found on his farm, some fifteen miles Northwest of our town, a number of interesting Indian relics.—In digging a foundation for one of his buildings he discovered the remains of an infant.—Among the trinkets which had been interred with it is a fish-hook, made of bone or buckhorn, and in a perfectly preserved condition except the shank, which is broken off. In bones of a powerful Indian were found in plowing, the horse having stepped on the skull, which gave way revealing the entire skeleton, which was in a sitting posture, the usual style of Indian burial. Several articles were found with the skeleton, among them a very large and singular tusk which cannot be classified as belonging to any species of animals now in the country.

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY.—The Southern Methodist have become the purchasers of the Presbyterian church in this place. Price paid $500. The Presbyterians contemplate erecting a handsome brick church in a short time on the corner of Main street.

The U. S. School of Oceanography proposes to give a three days' Festival on the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd of May.

The foundation of the new depot has at last commenced, and in a short time we expect to see the building finished.

Mr. William Mathers, living about four miles from this place, killed a snake measuring 27 feet long.—Manassas Gazette.

COMET.—Mr. Lewis Swift, of Marathon, New York, announced that he had discovered a comet on the 15th instant. The comet was observed at the Observatory in Washington on the night of the 20th, by Professor Hall, and its position was as follows:—April 20, 9 hours 2 minutes Washington time; right ascension, 3 hours 26 minutes 4 seconds; declination, north 46° 54'; hourly motion in right ascension increasing 18.3; hourly motion in declination diminishing 18.2. The comet is a telescopic one of average brightness.

THE KICK-KICK BILL.—The Richmond Whig thinks that the New York World, that the Kn Klux is so framed as to be made to embrace all Labor Societies, such as Miners' Associations, St. Crispin Knights, Typographical Unions, &c. The bill expressly provides for two sorts of combinations; the armed and unarmed, and the Labor Societies fall under the latter category. Every member of one of these Associations may be construed as denying to some citizen his "immunities and privileges" under the constitution.

REMARKS.—The market for Wheat opens quiet; offerings are above the average, and quality fair to good; sales of red at 150, 155, 167 and 160, with offerings of 1062 bushels of yellow; offerings of 1012 bushels mixed and 128 of white, with sales of the former at 73 and 74; no sales of the latter reported. Rye is in light receipt, with sales at 92 and 95. Oats are unchanged; offerings of 500 bushels, with sales at 60. Other articles are unchanged.

ALEXANDRIA FISH MARKET, April 24, 1871.

The receipts of Herring yesterday reached, it is estimated, 700,000. To-day, also, there were large receipts, but a considerable falling off from those of yesterday. Shad still continue to arrive in small numbers. Rock, Perch and Sturgeon also continue scarce. Shad sold to-day at from 12 to 15 50 per hundred; Herring at from 3 to 5 50 per thousand. The demand has experienced a marked decrease, and sales this morning were effected with difficulty. The packers, it is said, have all purchased their full supply.

The Secretary of the Treasury has determined to adopt an improved plan for the payment of interest on the new registered bonds, which consists in the payment of interest by a check of the Treasurer of the United States sent directly by mail to the address and payable to the order of the holder of the bond, and removes the serious objection to registered bonds, which compels holders to attend the office of the Assistant Treasurer in order to receive their money.
